NEW-YORK TRIBUNE. 1863.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, first issued in 1841, in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th of December, 1862 is as follows:

Daily	50,125
Semi-Weekly	17,250
Weekly	148,000
Aggregate	215,375

Preeminently a journal of News and of Literature, THE TRIBUNE has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the despots of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its projectors, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable, henceforth and forever.

THE TRIBUNE devotes attention in earlier times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Inventions, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms, and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that no country can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation.

THE VOICE OF A VETERAN

The following letter from the Hon. Josiah Quinty, of Massachusetts, to the President of the United States, will be read with particular interest by all who remember the extreme age and eminent services of the writer, and his illustrious revolutionary ancestry. Mr. Quincy was born in 1772. He was a member of Congress in 1805, and served until 1813, and, throughout this period of life, he did not cease to denounce and expose the ambitious projects of the slaveholding interest. He was in the Massachusetts Senate from 1813 to 1821. He was then elected to the House of Representatives and chosen Speaker. In 1823 he was Mayor of Boston, holding his place until 1828. He was then appointed President of Harvard Universary, and held office until 1845, since which time he has lived in private. In 1856 he was a warm supporter of the Republican candidate for the Presidency, making one speech in Quincy

We have reminded the reader of the events in the life of Mr Quincy, that they may know how to value properly the sentiments and opinions of the letter which follows.

"HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN—Sir: Old age has its privileges, which I hope this letter will not exceed.—But I cannot retrain from expressing to you my gratification and my gratitude for your letter to the Illinois Convention; happy, timely, conclusive and effective. What you say concerning emancipation, your proclamation, and your course of proceeding in relation to it, was due to truth and your own character, shamefully assailed as it has been. The development is an imperishable monument of wisdom and virtue.

"Negro Slavery and the possibility of emancipation have been subjects of my thought for more than seventy years, being first introduced to it by the debates in the Convention of Massachusetts for adopting the Constitution in 1788, which I attended. I had subsequently opportunities to knowing the views on that subject not only such men as Hamilton, King, Jay and Pickneys, William Smith, of South Carolina, and many others. With the first of these I had personal intercourses and acquaintances. I can truly say that I never knew the individual, slave holder or non-slave-holder, who did not express a detestation of it, and the desire and disposition to get rid of it. The only difficulty, in case of emancipation, was: "What shall we do for the master, and what shall we do with the slave?" A satisfactory answer to both these questions has been, until now, beyond the reach and power of human wisdom and power.

"Through the direct influence of a good and gracious God, the people of the United States have been invested with the power of answering satisfactorily both these questions, and also of providing for the difficulties incident to both, of which if they fail to avail themselves, thoroughly and conclusively, they will entail shame on themselves, and sorrow and misery on many generations.

"It is impossible for me to regard the power thus granted to this people otherwise than as proceeding from the direct influences of a superintending Providence who ever makes those mad whom he intends to destroy.

"The only possible way in which slavery after it has grown to such height, could have been abolished, is that which heaven has adopted.

"Your instrumentality in the work is to you a subject of special glory, favor and felicity. The madness of Secession and its inevitable consequences, civil war, will, in their result, give the right and the power of universal emancipation, sooner or later. If the United States do not understand and fully appreciate the boon thus bestowed upon them, and fail to improve it to the utmost extent of the power granted, they will prove recreant to themselves and posterty.

"I write under the impression that the victory of the United States in this war is inevitable.

"Compromise is impossible. Peace on any other basis would be the establishment of two nations, each hating the other, both military, both necessarily hostile, their territories interlocked, with a tendency of never ceasing hostility. Can we leave to posterity a more cruel inheritance, or a more hopeless happiness and prosperity? JOSIAH QUINCY.

"QUINCY, Sept. 7, 1863."

LIFE'S HAPPIEST PERIOD.—Kingsley gives his evidence on this disputed point. He thus declares:

"There is no pleasure that I have experienced like a child's midsummer holiday—the time, I mean, when two or three of us used to go away up the brook, and take our dinners with us, come home at night, dirty, tired, happy, scratched beyond recognition, with a greasy nosegay, three little trout, and one shoe; the other having been used for a boat till it had gone down with all hands out of soundings. How poor our Derby days, our Green with dinners, our evening parties, where there are plenty of nice girls after that! Depend upon it, a man never experiences such pleasure or grief after fourteen as he done before, unless, in some cases, in his first love making when the sensation is new to him."

☞ Vallandigham is now described as the right man in a tight place.

GEORGE B. McCLELLAN.

The following, taken from the Baltimore American, an unconditional Union paper, always partial to Gen. McClellan, shows the estimation the loyal men of the south place in him for endorsing Woodward.

General McClellan has "spoke in public" at last, and the time and occasion of giving utterance to his sentiments has swept from his side all those truly loyal men who had adhered to him through good and bad report. Here in Maryland his friends were numbered by thousands—they refused to believe the accusations against his loyalty—they contended that he would in due time clear his escutcheon of all imputations—of lack of earnestness in the prosecution of the war and the maintenance of the Union—but his letter in opposition to the election of Governor Curtin, and in favor of the defeated Semi-Rebel candidate, has dashed their hopes, and made them ready to believe anything and everything that has been charged against him.

Next to Vallandigham there is no man in the country whose loyalty loyalty had been more strongly impeached than Judge Woodward, whose election as Governor of Pennsylvania General McClellan regarded as called for by the interests of the nation. But, independent of this, there was reason why General McClell should of all men have taken no part in this contest, even if his political prejudices were with Judge Woodward. We know that Governor Curtin was one of the most earnest defenders of General McClellan, and that at as late a day as the removal of General Hooker from the command of the Army of the Potomac he accompanied a party of leading gentlemen from New York and Pennsylvania to Washington, and urged and begged the President to reinstate him in command. General McClellan knew this fact, and also that he had on all occasions disagreed with his political friends in their opposition to him—that he refused to believe their imputations against his charter as a loyal man and a soldier, and had lost influence with the authorities at Washington on this account.

But independent of all this, General McClellan knew that the party which hoped to elect Judge Woodward is as disloyal as the secessionists of Maryland. They rejoice in Rebel victories and mourn over their defeats. Their political animosity to the Administration is so great that they have lost all love of country and are ready to sacrifice their nationality to crush their political opponents. Gen. McClellan has broken his long silence to array himself with these mal-contents, and by so doing has sunk himself beyond all redemption in the estimation of all who are truly loyal. We want no such men in command of loyal armies, and if the President was satisfied of the sentiments now expressed by Gen. McClellan, we, for the first time in the columns of the American, thank him for persistently refusing to yield to the urgent appeals made to him for this reinstatement.

Our Young Men.

Our observation during the past few weeks has led us to know the gratifying fact that the YOUNG MEN, between the ages of twenty-one and thirty, who are not in the army, nine out of every ten voted the Union ticket at the last election, without regard to what their former political bias may have been. This we say is a gratifying and hopeful indication that patriotism and intelligence are marching hand to hand. Where fathers could not appreciate the issues, and supposed that democracy or whiggery were the same they were twenty-one years ago, their sons saw clearly were gone and buried with the past when traitors laid violent hands on the flag of our country. This a large majority of young men saw clearly, and voted for Andrew G. Curtin.—Democracy is a good thing when used to save a country, but when attempted to be made use of by such men as Buchanan, Wood, Vallandigham, Hughes, Reed, Woodward, Hiester and their like, to force the Administration to make peace and recognize the Southern Confederacy—no young man of intelligence can be lured into its false and treasonable doctrines.—The ignorant and prejudiced, old or young, did generally as they "did before," but the intelligent and patriotic voted the Union ticket, and they can be proud of it the balance of their lives.—Lancaster Examiner & Herald.

PADDY O'REILLY'S RETURN.—Miles O'Reilly, the soldier who was arrested on Morris Island, S. C., for making blackguard poetry, and pardoned by the President in response to a witty poetical petition, has arrived in New York on a furlough, and met with an enthusiastic reception by his old mates. He has sent a hymn of thanks to the President, beginning—

Long life to you, Misther Lincoln;
May you die both late an' aisy;
An' whin you lie wid the top of aich toe
Turned up to the roots of a daisy,
May this be your epitaph, nately writ,
"Though thraitors abused him vilely,
He was honest an' kindly, he loved a joke,
An' he punished Miles O'Reilly."

A Touching Episode of the War.

One readers will doubtless recollect having seen an announcement in the papers, some days since, of the death of a little son of Maj. Gen. W. T. Sherman, a bright, beautiful boy of eight years, whose disease was contracted while in camp with his father, on the Big Black, twenty miles from Vicksburg. The accompanying letter, addressed to the 13th Infantry and by its officers ordered to be printed for distribution among the soldiers of the regiment, cannot but touch a chord in every heart. Stricken father noble patriot, the hero of uncounted battles; let the nation place in its admiration of his gallant deeds, to weep with the mourner over the young life that no "bugle note" will wake. The letter is dated Gayoso House, Memphis, Oct. 4, and addressed to Capt. C. C. Smith, commanding battalion, as follows:

MY DEAR FRIEND: I cannot sleep to-night till I record an expression of the deep feelings of my heart to you, and to the officers and soldiers of the battalion, for their kind behavior to my poor child. I realize that you all feel for my family the attachment of kindred; and I assure you all of full reciprocity. Consistent with a sense of duty to my procession and office, I could not leave my post, and sent for my family to come to me in that climate, and in that sickly period of the year, and behold the result! The child that bore my name, and in whose future I reposed with more confidence than I did in my own plans of life now floats a mere corpse, seeking a grave in a distant land with a weeping mother, brother and sisters clustered about him. But for myself I can ask no sympathy. On, on, I must go to meet a soldier's fate, or see my country rise superior to all factions, till its flag is adored and respected by ourselves and all the Powers of the earth.

But, my poor Willie was or thought he was, a sergeant of the 12th. I have seen his eye brighten and his heart beat as he beheld the battalion under arms, and asked me if they were not real soldiers. Child as he was, he had the enthusiasm, the pure love of truth, honor and love of country which should animate all soldiers. God only knows why he should die thus young. He is dead! but will not on forgetson till those who know him in life have followed him to that mysterious end.

Please convey to the battalion my heartfelt thanks, and assure each and all that if, in after years, they call on me or mine, and mention that they were of the 13th Regulars, when poor Willie was sergeant, they will have a key to the affections of my family that will open all it has—that we will share with them our last blanket, our last crust.

Your friend,
W. T. SHERMAN, Maj. Gen.

REBEL TERMS OF PEACE.

The Richmond Enquirer, of the 16th ult., in an editorial on "PEACE," says:

"Save on our own terms, we can accept no peace whatever, and must fight till doomsday rather than yield an iota of them; and our terms are—

"Recognition by the enemy of the independence of the Confederate States.

"Withdrawal of the Yankee forces from every foot of Confederate ground, including Kentucky and Missouri.

"Withdrawal of the Yankee soldiers from Maryland until that State shall decide, by a free vote, whether she shall remain in the old Union, or ask admission into the Confederacy.

"Consent on the part of the Federal government to give to the Confederacy its proportion of the navy as it stood at the time of secession, or to pay for the same.

"Yielding up all pretensions on the part of the Federal government to that portion of the old territories which lies west of the Confederate States.

"An equitable settlement, on the basis of our absolute independence and equal rights, of all accounts of the public debts and public lands, and of the advantages accruing from foreign treaties.

"These provisions, we apprehend, comprise the minimum of what we must require before we lay down our arms. That is to say, the North must yield all, we nothing. The whole pretension of that country to prevent by force the separation of the States must be abandoned, which will be equivalent to an avowal that our enemies were wrong from the first; and, of course, as they waged a causeless and wicked war upon us, they ought, in strict justice, to be required, according to usage in such cases, to reimburse to us the whole of our expenses and losses in the course of that war. Whether this last provision is to insisted upon or not, certain we are that we cannot have any peace at all until we shall be in a position not only to demand and exact, but also to enforce and collect the treasure for our own reimbursement out of the wealthy cities in the enemy's country. In other words, unless we can destroy or scatter their armies, and break up their government, we can have no peace, and if we can do that, then we can, and ought, not only to exact from them our own terms, and ample acknowledgments of their wrong, but also a handsome indemnity for the trouble and expense caused to us by their crime."

Is General Cameron a Prophet?

It will be recollected that on the eve of the late election, Major General Butler addressed the people of the State Capital, and that Gen. Cameron presided at that meeting. On the occasion referred to, Gen Cameron, while introducing Gen. Butler, spoke briefly in discussion of the issues involved in the contest, and then made the following prediction:

"Now, gentlemen, let me prophecy a little; for an old man may be permitted to do this. The people of Pennsylvania have re-nominated Mr. Curtin, because the war is going on, and because they believed it would not be wise to change the commander. Let me proclaim that in a very short time there will be another person re-nominated and re-elected, and that will be Abraham Lincoln. [Deafening applause, continuing some moments.] Gentlemen, I might say more on the same subject; but you have responded so heartily that it is unnecessary.—Only remember that I made the prophecy."

Well, General, it seems that a prophet has sometimes honor in his own country and among his own kin. Half your prophecy, delivered early in September, was verified on the 13th of October—and the other may come true on the first Tuesday of November, 1864. Judging of the future by the past, the General is in a fair way of becoming a prophet in his old age. —Pitts. Com.

☞ The Erie Observer; a rank copperhead sheet, says: "Our Democratic exchanges promised their readers that the Curtin would fall' on the 2d Tuesday of October. It has fallen, but, unfortunately, it has left us on the outside."

CURE FOR DIPTHERIA.—Here is a remedy, said to be excellent, for the cure of diptheria: A small quantity of sheep's snet, say a spoonful, chopped fine and boiled in a gill of milk, and drink on retiring to bed. Of course the throat is to be bound with flannel.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS.—There was one place in Ohio where Vallandigham received an almost unanimous vote. The rebel prisoners at Camp Chase took a vote for Governor, and the result was Vallandigham, 1,083; Brough, 2. This must prove a consoling item to the disconsolate exile.

☞ A student, in the course of examination, was asked, "Pray E., how would you discover a fool?" "By the questions he would ask," replied Mr. E.

A SCORCHING REBUKE.

The Nashville Union of the 7th ult. gives the following:

A highly instructive as well as amusing incident took place in one of the business houses of one of our principal streets last Saturday, while the colored regiment was marching along to the music of the national airs. Several gentlemen were looking on the parade, among them a wealthy planter of Alabama, who is a large slaveholder. One of the group stepped out to the door, looking on for a few minutes, and then indignantly turned on his heel, addressed himself to the grave Alabamian, to the following purport:

"Well, I'll be —— if that is not a burning, disgrace, which no decent white man can tolerate. Isn't that nigger regiment too great an insult?"

The Alabamian jumped to his feet, and replied, while his eyes flashed fire:

"Sir, there's not a negro in that regiment who is not a better man than a rebel to this government, and for whom I have not a thousand times more respect than I have for a traitor to his country. I think that the best possible use the government can make of negroes is to take them and make them fight against the rebels. No traitor is too good to be killed by a negro, no weapon too severe to use against the wretches who are endeavoring to overthrow the government. Now, sir, swallow that, whether you like it or not."

The rebel darted off in utter amazement, without uttering a syllable of reply, leaving the sturdy Alabamian, who cherished the jewel of patriotism as something more precious than flocks of slaves, "alone in his glory."

What London Is.

Have any of the untraveled readers of the Independent an idea of the vast traffic that rolls through the intermediate streets of London?

Here are some interesting statistic gleaned from a recent return, which go to show what a gigantic place the British metropolis has grown to be:

On an average day, by actual count 57,765 vehicles of all kinds pass thro forty eight streets—all of which streets are named in the return, with the respective numbers attached.—These fifty-seven thousand conveyances carried in one day 171,036 passengers. The number of foot passengers was 535,536—making a total of 706,572 passengers who pass daily through 48 streets of London. And there are some hundreds of streets and alleys in the city!

It is a curious fact, too, that out of this aggregate of more than 700,000 passengers less than one fourteenth entered these streets during the night. In other words, out of nearly three quarters of a million of people 49,000 were out after 11 o'clock at night.—For so great a city, this is a very small proportion, showing that the majority of Englishmen love to go to bed betimes.

Through Cheapside one of the busy sections of the city, 13,000 vehicles roll daily—going from west to east—every afternoon between four and five o'clock. The number of persons who cross London Bridge every day is reckoned at 84,927, and the number of carts and wagons reaches 12,000.

The present population of London is about 2,800,000—or just two millions more than the city of New York.—New York Independent.

"NOVEL METHOD OF STIRRING UP TEAMSTERS.—An incident occurred during the recent retrograde movement of Meade's army which shows that General Buford is as fertile in expedients as he is brave in an emergency. While bringing up the rear, with the rebels not far behind him, he came up with a train of wagons several miles long, numbering, it is said, about 800 wagons. The train was stopped, and Buford could find no one in command to start it. No time was to be lost.—The enemy were coming and Buford's command would be cut up and the train captured. The teamsters in that long line could not be made to comprehend and act.

Gen. Buford, in a few seconds, comprehended and acted. He ordered one of his rifled pieces to be planted in the rear of the train, and began firing shells up the road, over the wagons, at the longest range and with a good elevation. A few of these "rotten cannon balls" bursting over the train roused the sleepers and fixed the business. Believing that the rebels were close upon them, the wagon masters teamsters applied whip and spur and the whole caravan moved of safely.

☞ "Was your son engaged before he went to the war?" asked Mrs. Rugg of a neighbor.

"No, but he has had several engagements since," she replied.

☞ A man came into a printing office to beg a paper. "Because," he said, "we like to read the newspapers very much, but our neighbors are too stingy to take one."

☞ A dandy, smoking a cigar, having entered a menagerie, the proprietor requested him to take the weed from his mouth, "lest he should teach the other monkeys bad habits."

Important Confession from the English.

In an article upon Gilmore's ——, "Angel," the London "Telegraph" makes the following admission in favor of the Americans:

"If the Americans are vain of boasting 'big' why not do them the justice of confessing that they attain their adjectives in their contentions their sufferings, and their engines and methods of warfare? Twice, in the course of two years' struggle, it has altered the complexion of the science of destruction—once on the water and once by land. The Monitor and Merrimac confessedly inaugurated a new era hardly rusted yet by the salt water into which they went down so soon: but already every country that pretends to keep the sea armed is fitting out vessels after their kind—ponderous Goliahs, it is true, descended literally from the mammoth of fight in Hampton water. Now it is a revolution in the art of artillery battery and defence by batteries which these energetic fighters have developed. Sumter is down—breaches and shattered into such a ruin that hardly one stone stands upon another of the fort which first flew the flag of secession. And this, after repeated failures with such artillery as could be made to float on board ship, has been accomplished by enormous cannon, fixed on a land battery, discharging a bolt of 200 pounds weight to a range of 4,400 yards.

* * Sir William Armstrong could not have done it so soon, but he could have done it; and Mr Whitworth would, no doubt, make short work of even such a place as Sumter. But neither of them has shown us anything like the range and accuracy combined with sheer ruinous force, of Gilmore and Dahlgren, for the reason that their monster guns have generally committed temporary suicide at the few initiatory discharges."

Our Vivandieres.

We have several of these charming creatures in the army. The third corps is more favored in this way than any other, for it has no less than three or four petticoat warriors. The most famous of these is Anna Etheridge, who always followed as a drummer of the third brigade. Her dress has been perforated with bullets several times, yet she clings on to the regiment, refusing the offer of a furlough. She was elected meeting her at the battle of Gainesville, with a bullet hole through her dress, and told her to fall back to the rear.

"No," said she. "Here are the dead and wounded, and this is my place."

She has been presented with a Kearney medal for her cool bravery, and her devoted attendance on the wounded. Another follows the Third Michigan, but I know little of her history.

These ladies, in their Bloomer costume, and their kegs of refreshing drinks slung before them, have a kind of cheering effect upon us more, over, here, where petticoats are so scarce. —Army Cor.

A WAR INCIDENT.—A correspondent of the Bloomington Pantagraph relates an amusing incident which took place au the capture of Little Rock, Arkansas. A Confederate surgeon, by the name of Crossdell, got beastly drunk, and took a room in a city hotel and went to sleep. In the meantime our men drove the rebels through the town in complete rout, and took possession of the place. Several of our officers put up at the same hotel. After awhile the surgeon awoke from his slumbers and came down stairs in front of the hotel. "Come," said he to the officers, "let's go out to the camp." "What camp," says one officer. "Dubbins, of course." "What command do you belong to?" says reb to Gen. Steele. The latter explained. "Well," says the surgeon, "it beats Rip Van Winkle that a man cannot go to sleep in the Confederate States without waking up in the United States!"

Since then he has taken the oath and gone to St. Louis; thinks C. S. A. a poor Government for a sleepy man—or any other man.

AN AGREEABLE CUSTOMER.—"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this 'ere office till the boat starts; I'm afraid somebody will steal him."

"You can't do it," said the clerk; "take him out."

"Well, stranger, that is true; but you're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you."

"Take him out," roared the clerk."

"Well, stranger, I don't think you 're honest, and you want watching Here, Dragon," he said to the dog, "sit down here, and watch that fellow sharp," and turning on his heel he said, "Put him out, stranger, if he's troublesome."

The dog lay there till the boat started, watching and growling at every movement of the clerk, who gave him the half of the office.

☞ Gen Grant is described by a correspondent who recently saw him, as about five feet seven inches in stature, youthful in appearance, whiskers without mustache, modest, unsophisticated, pleasing in his manners, an inveterate smoker, and still walks on crutches.

For President in 1864,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

OF ILLINOIS.

Copperheads Changing Front.

Since the recent elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa, there has been a very perceptible backing down on the part of Northern Copperheads generally. They exerted themselves to the utmost to secure a triumph of their pernicious principles. Never in the history of this country did a party labor longer or harder for political success. Everything that could possibly add to their strength was made use of without regard to principle, truth or honesty. Emancipation, amalgamation, corruption, tyranny, bankruptcy, and endless crushing taxation, was the burden of their song for ten months previous to the election. Now that the elections are over, there is a calm that is indeed refreshing. The Administration is not really so bad after all—rebellion is wrong and should be be put down, and the Union should be restored, are phrases that again greet our ears, at times, from those who would have suffered much before uttering words of similar import a month since. Even Gov. Seymour, of New York, the leader of the Copperheads hitherto, who gained so much notoriety during the New York riots, that he deserves to be called the riot Governor, made a speech in Buffalo, not long since, in which he makes use of these (for him) remarkable words.

"We say we are ready with you to put forth every effort of physical power; we consecrate ourselves and all that we have for the salvation and perpetuation of our country. In all solemnity, I say it with a heart full of love for my country; with a desire to sacrifice any thing and every thing for its preservation and its happiness; with all solemnity I say it that here again do we dedicate ourselves to the most holy and patriotic work of saving this fair land of ours from ruin and disintegration."

Remarkable words, indeed to be uttered by Gov. Seymour. We venture the assertion that there cannot be found as many loyal words in all his speeches in the past year including the speeches of all his followers. In fact there can be no exception taken to the above extract. It is just what the Union party desire and what they contended for.

The meeting the Governor addressed in the speech, of which the above is an extract, was called a Union Meeting. This indicates very clearly to us that there is to be a change in the programme. Sympathy with treason wont win. Vallandigham peace measures wont win. They are going to wash their mouths, bridle their tongues and pretend to be loyal. It is really refreshing to see what a change a month has wrought.

Just think of a Democratic editor in this State saying the party did not endorse the peculiar peace measures and dogmas of Vallandigham, after following him as a leader for a year. Oh, the ingratitude of friends! But there is to be a great change from copperheadism to unionism and poor Val must go overboard. Then farewell old friend, we must no longer follow you, and you must not even recognize us. The leaders may thus give him the cold shoulder, but what, we ask, will New Sewickly do?

Gov. Seymour says that with all solemnity do they again dedicate themselves to their country. It is indeed a work of solemnity to christen so many renegades and receive them among the faithful. We fear with all their solemnity, however, that it is mere lip service. The Governor says that "again we dedicate ourselves," thereby acknowledging the treason and transgressions of the party. So we say, in God's name, let the party be dedicated to loyalty again, for truly it is proper and seeming so to be. The party is changing as fast as a party can.—They will soon be holding Union Meetings everywhere and throw patriots in the shade with their professions of loyalty. We would hail this change in the party as a good omen, could we believe them sincere. We must beware how we repose confidence in these new-made patriots. It is the loaves and fishes they seek, not because they are one whit better than heretofore.

Let us wait until New Sewickly speaks.

Foster, who is ordered to report at Washington to the Adjutant General. Circumstances indicate that Gen. Foster will have command of the defenses of Washington.

Death of Dr. Smith Cunningham

We deeply regret to announce the death of Dr. Cunningham, one of our most highly esteemed fellow citizens, and an eminent and skillful Physician. He died at his residence in Beaver Penna., Sabbath morning the 25th ult., at about one o'clock, in the 60th year of his age. He was born in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, on the 10th of January, 1804 and removed with his father's family to the State of Ohio, in the year 1818. He left his home in his minority, to enter upon the great battle of life and to become the architect of his own fortune. The high position and standing which he occupied for many years will attest his entire success. After completing his education, which was a liberal one, he commenced his medical studies under the direction and instruction of Dr. James R. Speer, of Pittsburg. Having qualified himself by his untiring industry and perseverance for entering upon the arduous practice of his profession, after travelling through portions of Ohio and Indiana, he located in Petersburg, Ohio in 1829. After practicing medicine there for a short period, he removed to Beaver in the fall of that year, where he continued to pursue his profession, with assiduity, skill and usefulness, up to near the close of his life—a larger portion of that time in partnership with the late Dr. Oliver Cunningham. He has lived and practiced medicine in this place for more than the third of a century.

With a mind most powerful, vigorous, quick, just and practical, and possessing extraordinary energy he acquired knowledge with great facility, and being endowed with a retentive memory, he possessed great power and readiness in the use of his varied stores of professional and general information. Hence, as a physician, he was eminently successful and took his stand in the front rank of his profession in his native State.

Dr. Cunningham was always a man of the strictest and purest integrity, of unblemished morality and possessed a high regard for piety, giving with a liberal hand and cheerful heart to the support of religion and of every useful and benevolent enterprise, and always gave his hearty support to the cause of humanity.

He was truly and wisely a devoted patriot, loving his country with an honesty and sincerity unsurpassed by any. Since the breaking out of the rebellion against our government, he has given his cordial and unqualified support to our National and State authorities in their efforts to restore the country to its former unity and prosperity.

He was a man of highly cultivated mind, of a refined taste, and of rare conversational powers, always imparting to the social circle a high degree of pleasure and profit by his general and varied intelligence, and his pleasing and genial manners. In the room and at the bedside of his patients he always gave comfort by his kindly manner and cheerful and instructive conversation. His presence always imparted a feeling of confidence and pleasure.

His loss to our community, as a valuable and esteemed citizen, as a courteous and kind man, and more especially as an eminent and skillful Physician, is irreparable. The profession of which he was universally esteemed an ornament, will deeply feel and deplore his loss. Dr. Cunningham has left a widow, daughter of the late Judge Hemphill, and five children, two sons and three daughters. To the cultivation of the minds of his children, he devoted much of his time, instructing them in all the various branches of a liberal and substantial education. For this purpose he had superior qualifications—having a capacity for imparting the knowledge of which his own mind was well stored, which is possessed by few.

He has left them with ample means for their future support, and with the knowledge and principles which will enable them to pass through life as honorable, useful and respectable members of society.

Thus from time to time the wise and good are removed by the will of an all-wise Providence, and none are exempt from the common lot of frail humanity.

The Late and Approaching Contest---Union Men Preserve Your Organizations for the Great Battle.

We have just passed through the first great contest for the maintenance of our Republican Government, and the result exhibits to the world the gratifying evidence of the unmistakable devotion of the people to our free institutions. The cause of right, of the constitution and liberty has triumphed gloriously. The opposition party—the enemies of the Constitution and Union—made a plain issue with the people. The issue clearly involved the great and vital question whether there was sufficient power in the government to maintain itself—whether an administration chosen by the people themselves under the forms of the constitution was vested with power and authority to preserve the forms, and successfully wield the authorities of the government against all opposition, whether foreign or domestic. If Andrew G. Curtin, who represented the great principle for which we contended, had been defeated, the fact that the government was powerless for its own defence against either foreign enemies or domestic treason, would have been clearly established. Rebellion of any of the States of the Union could at any time have neutralized the power of the National Authority, and hence all the compacts of such a government would have been regarded both at home and abroad, as entirely useless. Bad men, such as we find we have in our midst, would have felt that they had the strongest encouragement to revolution for the most trifling and contemptible objects, and our government would have become the mere sport of every worthless and unprincipled demagogue in the land. The people—that is the great mass—fairly and fully understood this question, as far as it was possible to do so—Gov Curtin, in the election which is just closed, represented this principle, and his success in Pennsylvania may be regarded as the success of the National Government. The entire policy of the National Government to crush out rebellion, was made the great issue before the people. It was the existence or destruction of the entire fabric of free Government.—Woodward and his friends denounced taxation to carry on the war in defence of the National life, and execrated it as an outrageous burden upon the people. They condemned the conscription laws as an infringement of the most sacred rights of the people. All our military operations were ridiculed and opposed as they progressed, and were denounced as acts of usurpation and tyranny, and our armies and navies were to be recalled, that the enemies of our country might triumph. By such a course, on the part of the opponents of our Government, the policy of the Administration was forced upon the people for approval or disapproval. That issue was accepted by the friends of the Union, and the triumphant success of our cause prove how unmistakably that policy was understood, and endorsed by intelligent citizens. But the most marked result in this was the entire endorsement of Andrew G Curtin, who had fully sustained the President in all his official acts to sustain the Government. These acts of the President were as much at issue in the late election as were those of the Governor, and the endorsement of Gov. Curtin was clearly an endorsement of President Lincoln. The leaders of the falsely called Democratic party charged the Governor with having placed the power of the State, claimed by them to be sovereign and independent, at the disposal of the President, thereby surrendering the great principles of "State rights." This was done for two purposes. It was hoped that it would tend to defeat Gov. Curtin, and to bring into disgrace and contempt President Lincoln; but in both cases we find that our opponents most signally failed. Curtin was endorsed and Lincoln fully sustained in all his acts. By this great result, it is proved that the people are anxious to retain in power those identified with a vigorous policy to carry on the war until rebellion is forever crushed. If this had not been the case, Woodward would have been elected. If the people had wanted a change in the National policy to procure peace, they would have changed their Executive, and thus most easily secured a total change of policy. Then the question arises, do the people desire a change in those who represent their principles in the National Government? If they had they would have given expression to that desire at the late election.

Upon this subject we will have more to say in our next paper, and show the great and vital necessity to keep up our present organization for the coming great national conflict which will decide our fate.

Democratic Position.

The Star, of last week, still continues to claim that the position of the Democratic party was misrepresented during the late canvass, and devotes nearly a column and a half to an attempt to show what it is pleased to call "the falsity of our view of the case."

The first ground of objection made by the Star is, that we charged that the Convention that nominated Judge Woodward endorsed Vallandigham, and it tries to escape the fact by quoting the 7th resolution of the Convention, in these words:

"7. That we heartily thank the lion-hearted Democracy of Ohio for the manly vindication they have given of the Constitution against the great crime committed upon it in the arrest and deportation of Clement L. Vallandigham; and we assure them of our cordial sympathy in the great struggle they are making for their undoubted rights."

Now, let us look a little at the above resolution. The Convention thanks "the lion-hearted Democracy" for what? For their manly vindication of the "great crime committed against it in the arrest and deportation of Clement L. Vallandigham."

Let it be recollected—

1. That Vallandigham was, at this time, banished by order of the Military Court, and was as much a criminal in the eye of that law as any malefactor would be who should be convicted in any Court in the State.

2. That this arrest and trial is here called a crime. The Convention deliberately pronounces the action of the military authorities, acting for the best interests of the country, a crime.

Now, it was well known that Vallandigham was arrested, tried and convicted of Treason—and the State Convention thanks the Ohio Democracy for nominating him. If this is not endorsing Vallandigham, what is it? Further, the resolution assures them of cordial sympathy—in what? Why, in their efforts to elect Val!

It is generally thought in this country, that when a Convention nominated a candidate for Governor, that the man thus nominated is the exponent of the political views of the Convention which puts him forward as its candidate.

It will not do for the Star to say that the Convention did not endorse Vallandigham by such a resolution. Political Conventions are not in the habit of nominating candidates who are opposed to them politically. Nor will it at all answer to claim that the majority of those who voted for him did not endorse his views. We are well aware of that. It was a trick of the leaders to endeavor, by an appeal to the sympathies, to induce the rank and file to support a man who was opposed to the prosecution of the war. But it did not succeed. Had Vallandigham been elected, we should have had it heralded all over Europe as a demonstration against the further prosecution of the war; and of this the Star is well aware. The Star also complains of our coupling the name of Horatio Seymour with that of Fernando Wood. We are not as well qualified to discuss the relative merits of these two flagrant specimens of patriots, as he of the Star. But we are tolerably well convinced that the course of the "model Governor of the Empire State," during the late riots, and in opposing the draft, was sufficiently identified with sympathy with the rebels, to be denominated heresy.

But the funniest part of the Star's article is the following:

* * * "Our opponents have persisted in the assertion that we were opposed to the war, in favor of peace at any price, and disunionists at heart. How they managed to deceive so many people, by these wholesale falsehoods, it is difficult to conceive."

Here is just where the laugh comes in. We look upon this as one of the best "goaks" of the season, and beats Artemus all hollow.

Now that the election is over, we are happy to learn that the Star is in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war, and we sincerely hope that it will cease to misrepresent the course of the Administration.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 2.—The Richmond Whig of the 31st contains the following dispatch.

Charleston, Oct. 30.—The bombardment of Fort Sumter to-day is the heaviest that has ever taken place. From sundown Wednesday till sun down Thursday 1,250 shots, from fifteen inch mortars and 300 pounder Parrotts, have been thrown against the fort. Our loss is seven wounded. This evening the enemy opened fire from the mortar battery at Cummings Point upon the northeast angle of the fort, which seems to be the special object of their attention. The enemy's batteries engaged were those at Gregg and Wagner, the center battery and Cummings Point battery, with the addition of three monitors. The bombardment of Fort Sumter still goes on, but the fire is much slacker. Our batteries fire slowly and deliberately. The enemy, at present, pays attention to them.

Presentation of a Rare Work of Art to Gen Irwin.

The friends of W. W. Irwin, Commissary General of the State, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, recently conceived the idea of recognizing his great services as an officer, as well as acknowledging his many qualities as a man, by presenting him with some fitting testimonial. It was agreed upon to select and purchase a rare production of art, in the possession of Ward on Third street, the work of one of the most gifted artists in the country. Accordingly a subscription was started and confined exclusively to the intimate personal friends of the General, and after the contribution of an adequate sum, the work in question was puschased and devoted to the purpose designed. The subject of the artist in this instance, is of a floral character, in which he blends the colors of the rarest exotics, with the soft hues of the grape, peach and other choice fruit, constituting an ensemble of color, tint and shading which can only be excelled by the highest perfection of nature. The picture is enclosed in a massive gilt frame, 26x30 inches, and when it has the advantage of a proper light, elicits the admiration and favorable criticism of all who examine it.

Accompanying the picture was a written testimonial, to which each of the subscribers to the fund had appended their names. The sentiment of the testimonial is as follows:

Presented to WILLIAM W. IRWIN, Commissary General of the State of Pennsylvania, as a testimonial of the high respect which is entertained for his official acts and the warm esteem in which he is held personally by his friends, the undersigned.

The presentation took place on Friday, in the Law Department of the Library rooms.

Gen. R. Biddle Roberts made the presentation speech and was replied to by Gen. Irwin. Speeches were also made by Samuel B. Thomas, A. C. Mullin and Col. Thomas C. M'Dowell.

ACCIDENT.—On Friday evening last a prisoner by the name of Howells attempted to make his escape from jail. He succeeded in getting on to the outer wall of the prison, and in attempting to let himself down by means of a rope made of his bed clothing, he was precipitated to the ground, a distance of some seventeen feet, dislocating his ankle and otherwise injuring himself pretty severely. He succeeded in getting some distance from the prison, but was soon discovered and returned to his old quarters.

We would take occasion to say that the prison is manifestly insecure; but those defects are of such a character that they can easily be remedied, and that at comparatively little expense. This matter should receive the immediate and prompt attention of the Commissioners. If they do not, some unfortunate prisoner may fall out some night, break a leg or an arm, commence an action for damages against the county.

Letter from Knoxville Tenn

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18th '63.

EDITOR ARGUS:—Again the "Roundheads" have been in battle. On the 8th inst. we left our camp at this place, and on the 10th inst. we overtook the enemy at Blue Spring, Tenn. At 5 o'clock p. m., of that day, the fight began, and for half an hour the rattle of musketry, and the screaming and bursting of shells was terrific, but one grand charge by the 3d Brigade, (Col. Beasure's) broke the enemy's lines and drove them at the point of the bayonet from their position, leaving in our possession the whole field, with all their dead and part of their wounded. Night come on and the battle ceased; next morning the enemy was gone, they had sliped off under the cover of darkness. We gave chase for 40 miles but could not bring them to another stand; hence, we halted, and countermarched to Knoxville, reaching our old camp last night.—The loss in our Division was ten killed, and forty three wounded. The Roundheads did not lose a man. It is a miracle how they escaped, for they was in the hottest of the fight.

We are all anxious to hear the result of the election for Governor of Pennsylvanian. On the evening of the 13th inst., the Pa. troops of our corps, took a vote by marking, to show to the friends at home who they wished for Governor of their State. The result was as follows:

	CURTIN.	WOODWARD.
100th P. V.	314	3
50th P. V.	260	2
45th P. V.	258	14
48th P. V.	264	00
Total	1096	19

Three cheers for Curtin, hoping he is elected; and that Old Vallandigham, of Ohio, has died politically.—Good bye.

Yours Truly,
W. C. S.

FIRE.—We learn that a fire occurred in New Brighton, on last Sunday morning, resulting in the destruction of the dwelling house and Drug Store of Frank Hoops, the Paper and Book Store of Chas. Hoops, and a Saddler Shop owned by R. M'Kay. The whole loss will amount to about $10,000—on which there is no insurance. The fire originated in the Drug Store, but in what manner we did not learn.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

WHEREAS, The President of the United States, by his Proclamation, bearing date on the third day of this month, has invited the citizens of the United States to set apart Thursday, the Twenty-Sixth Day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer. Now, I, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby recommend that the People of Pensylvania do set apart and observe the said day accordingly, and that they do especially return thanks to Almighty God, for the gathered harvests of the fruits of the Earth,—

For the prosperity with which He has blessed the Industry of our people—

For the general health and welfare which He has graciously bestowed upon them,—

And for the crowning mercy by which the blood thirsty and devastating enemy was driven from our soil by the valor of our brethern, freeman of this and other States,—

And that they do especially pray for the continuance of the blessings which have been heaped upon us by the Divine Hand,—

And for the safety and welfare and success of our brethern in the field, that they may be strengthened to the overthrow and confusion of the rebels now in arms against our Beloved Country,—

So that Peace may be restored in all our Borders, and the Constitution and Laws of the Land be every where within them, re-established and sustained.

Given under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-eighth. A. G. CURTIN.

By the Governor:
ELI SLIFER, Sec'y of the Com.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Col. Robert Nugent, A. A. P. M. General, New York: The representations made by Dean Richmond and Peter Cauger, in a printed circular dated October 27, 1863 in respect to the Provost Marshal General is untrue. It is not true that the State of New York is charged as with a deficiency for every citizen who has paid the $300 commutation money, receiving no credit therefor. On the contrary, the State receives the same credit for a man who has paid his commutation as if the drafted citizen had gone in person or furnished a substitute, and in like manner towns which have raised the money to pay their quota, receives the same credit as if actual substitutes had been furnished. The President has ordered that every citizen who has paid the $300 commutation shall receive the same credit therefor as if he had procured a substitute, and is exonerated from military service for the time which he was drafted, to wit: three years. As the misrepresentations of Dean Richmond and Peter Cauger have been published and circulated for election ecering purposes, it is proper that you give them immediate correction.

JAMES B. FRY,
Provost Marshal General.

☞The veteran Democrat, Daniel S. Dickinson, made a speech in New York which produces a remarkable point. He declares that in the war of 1812 Mr. Madison made ten mistakes where Abraham Lincoln has made one, yet the Democratic party sustained the Executive then and made their fortunes as a party by their patriotic course.

JOHN CUTHBERTSON,
Captain & Provost Marshal,
24th District Penn'a.

By order of Col. FRY,
Provost Marshal General.

CINCINNATI, November 1.—An extraordinary case of treason has recently come to light, implicating several persons in this city, Columbus, Covington and Newport in conspiring to release the rebel prisoners at Camp Chase, and overthrow the State Government. The conspiracy was brought to light by United States detectives who were supposed by parties implicated, to be spies from the rebel army, and were treated with full confidence. The plot as disclosed to the detectives was that the attack be made on Camp Chase and release the prisoners confined there, numbering some thirty-five hundred, seize the arsenal at Columbus, take possession of the penitentiary and release John Morgan and other officers confined there, and then commence a rebel campaign in Ohio.

United States Marshall Sands and Provost Marshal Reany arrested the following persons implicated in a plot; Charles W. H. Cathcart of Columbus, formerly school commissioner of Ohio; J. D. Cresson of Columbus, formerly sutler in the 18th regulars, who were to lead an attack on Camp Chase; James D. Patton of Covington, regular agent of the rebel government, who furnished money to detectives under the impression they were spies, and according to agreement met Cathcart and others at Camp Chase, and assisted to mature the plan of attack; Ruth M'Donald of Covington, who was accepted as mail carrier through the rebel lines, and whose house was headquarters of rebels; Samuel P. Thomas, merchant tailor, Cincinnati, and his wife, Catharine Parmenter, of Cincinnati. Information was obtained that an organization exists in Illinois, waiting for an outbreak in Ohio to similar results in that State. Other particulars are known to the authorities, but not yet made public.

MARRIED:—Oct. 29th, 1863, by Rev. D. A. Cunningham, at his residence, Mr. JAMES D. BELL, of Mansfield, O., and Miss HANNAH N. M'FADDEN, of Bridgewater, Pa.

DIED—Near Frankfort, Hanover tp., on Friday morning, the 22d ult, JOHN EWING, Esq.

He had been declining for several years under diseases of the lungs, and confined to his room almost constantly for two years, yet his departure was sudden and startling. Mrs E. at his side in bed, being seized with severe sickness, he attempted, by calling, to awake their daughter, who was sleeping up stairs. He succeeded in the attempt, but the exertion brought on a Hemorrhage of the lungs, which soon terminated his earthly career. The subject of this notice was in his youth a poor orphan. He served an an apprenticeship to the tanning business under Thos. Bigger, Esq., for whom he ever afterwards entertained the highest respect. With his trade he learned habits of industry and economy, probity and manly dealing, and by these habits, under the blessing of God, he attained gradually to considerable wealth. He was not in communion with the church, but he maintained a christian deportment. During the wearisome months of his affliction he was not only patient but cheerful, and often declared to a ministerial friend that he was not alarmed by the nearness of death, and that he did not depend for acceptance with God on his righteousness, but on the infinite merits of the Redeemer. The righteous hath hope in his death. He died in the 66th year of his age, leaving the companion of his youth, three sons, the youngest in the Potomac army, four daughters, and very many friends, to mourn the loss.

Address,

WM. B. HURD, CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at your Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the DENTAL TREASURY, Price, ONE DOLLAR, which contains them.

NOW.

IS THE TIME TO USE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth. Dr. Hurd's Toothache Drops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Finch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they want them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see it, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,

WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co., refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Jay, Cooke & Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York City.

In the Literary Department we shall present the choicest varieties within the reach of our extended means. The Novelettes, Tales, Poetry, &c., shall be supplied from the best and highest sources, and be equal to anything to be found in any journal or magazine.

Agriculture and Horticulture,

EMBRACING

Farming, Gardening, Fruit-Raising, &c.

In all their branches, as conducted on the latest and most approved system.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purpose has been to furnish useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines and selfish purposes of the many empires and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

The same industry, care, and discrimination, in gathering and preparing the Stirring Events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which hitherto has been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, the condensed and careful made-up form, in which it appears, a correct mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, tact and judgment.

We annex the cash terms, to which we beg leave to call attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER,

And Other

Nervous and Chronic Diseases,

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well-timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotten up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

THE SOLDIER'S TRUE FRIEND!

ALWAYS READY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

LONG marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the soldier must endure, MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS, when your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a pot of this ALL-HEALING & COOLING Salves will give, to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for at stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflammation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightly wounds.

WIVES AND SISTERS OF OUR VOLUNTEERS

Yo cannot put into the Knapsacks of your Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable nor more necessary gift than a supply of this EXTRAORDINARY MILITARY SALVE.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized the most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGHS and SUFFOCATING HOARSNESS, first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing or DANGEROUS COUGH Therefore we say to the whole army,

SOLDIERS ATTENTION!!

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the Army in Camp,

DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, SCURVY, SORES and SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS, all disappear like a charm before these PILLS AND OINTMENT, and now while the Cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succor in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES
OF THE
BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS,

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Sailor's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

MARRIAGE.

ITS loves and hates, sorrows and angers, hopes and fears, regrets and joys: MANHOOD, how lost, how restored; the nature, treatment and radical cure of spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness; involuntary emissions, sexual debility and impediments to marriage generally; nervousness, consumption, fits, mental and physical incapacity, resulting from SELF-ABUSE—are fully explained in the MARRIAGE GUIDE, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. In fact, it discloses secrets that every one should know; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or postage stamps.

Address Dr. WM. YOUNG, 416 Spruce st., above Fourth, Philadelphia.

☞ Afflicted and Unfortunate, no matter what may be your disease, before you place yourself under the care of any of the numerous QUACKS—native or foreign—who advertise in this or any other paper, get a copy of Dr. Young's book, and read it carefully. It will be the means of saving you many a dollar, your health, and possibly your life.

DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his publication, at his office, 416 Spruce Street, above Fourth, Phila.
